Seeking Asian Customers?

We can help.

The South Australian
Business Directory for Asians.

Searching a business is as simple as clicking a button with The ADSA Online Search Engine

Statistics show that 84% of adults in Australia currently have access to the internet. Our online database system was designed to provide an easy, effective search method for our online users to find your business.

The translations to Chinese and Vietnamese allow those who are uncomfortable with the English language to use the service to locate you.

Our optimised codes ensure that the search returns the most accurate results available.

Users of the online search engine are able to search a particular business, product or service, and can further filter their results to match specific locations.

The ADSA search engine really is the ideal solution for Asian customers to find their desired business.

The advertising medium that stays with your customers all year round The ADSA Directory Book

With 10,000 copies published yearly and distributed for free at major Asian groceries around South Australia, the ADSA directory book acts as a Yellow Pages for the Asian community.

Providing translational services to major Asian languages, it can be kept throughout the year at Asian homes as an ideal reference to find South Australian businesses.

So let your business be adopted into 10,000 homes today!
